The interchange of trafic between the two roads reaches ten to fifteen cars per day.

With the Pennsylvania controlling the Baltimore & Ohio the improvements planned by those in control for several ears past are to be carried out. On the Pittsburg division there will be a good deal of work done, and this division will be made as safe as possible through a mountainous country. Wooden bridges are giving place to steel structures resting on stone piers, much double track is being laid, and about three-fourths of the total mileage from Cumberland to Pittsburg now has two tracks. In some places in the narrow mountain valleys it has been necessary to change the alignment of the road in order to find room for more than a single track, and with the new alignment, wherever

A traveling agent of the Big Four in lines in the gas belt territory, said the Michigan division, as a whole, showed increased passenger revenue over last year Travel to Michigan pleasure resorts has been unusually heavy, and there have been arge excursions to the lakes. He cited one marked. At Marion, Ind., the re ceipts from sales of tickets were over $7,000 for July. The receipts of July at that station five years ago were a little over $2,000. A number of other large stations are showing increased receipts, despite the trolly-line service. He thought the great prosperity of the manufacturing interests in the gas belt territory had much to do with the increase in passenger business.

Here I am. I'm overdue, I guess, And yet for me men often sue, For I'm somewhat, as a fellow says. I'm the beak of a cuckoo At least, and sometimes more, For when the ostrich, in the sand, Conceals his head to miss the wind And hides, he thinks, to beat the band, I'm there. I'm sowewhat, too, in figures, Somewhat bigger than a million; 1 am, in fact, a section of 1,000,000,000 Just four-sevenths of one billion; Also I'm a part of biliousness. And a part of billetdoux. > The State Board of Tax Commissioners has sixty appeals remaining to be heard during its closing session of ten days, which began yesterday. A large number is on the docket for to-day, the list being as follows: Western Union Telegraph Company, represented by Samuel O. Pickens; Richmond Home Telephone Company, by A. C. Lindermuth: Thorntown Telephone Company, by R. E. Niven; Crown Point Telephone Company, by F. B. Kimbell; Lebanon Telephone Company, by Charles S. P. Waltz, The first appeal heard yesterday after- the Council would pass an ordinance to noon was that of the Indiana Railway Company, an interurban line running from South Bend to Goshen and connecting several other large towns in northern Indiana. At the first session of the State Board this road was assessed at $11,000 a mile, and its representatives contended yesterday that the figure ought not to exceed $5,000 a mile. The road was represented by General Manager Miller and by Joseph B. Kealing, of Hamilton, secretary of the Mutual Telephone Company, of Shelbyville, urged that there ought to be a material reduction of his company's assessment of $50 a mile, pole mileage, fixed by the board at its first session. He said that all the stockholders in the company had free telephone service on the toll lines over the county and made the surprising declaration that | sance. the more telephones they had in service the less money they made. The reason given for this was that additional telephones required additional employes. Last year this company sustained a severe fire loss, and the state board reduced its assessment on that account. GAS PROPERTY DEGENERATING. Samuel T. Murdock appeared before the board in behalf of the Lafayette Gas Company and the Indiana Natural and Illuminating Gas Company, which furnish both kinds of gas to the city of Lafayette, also to the cities of Frankfort, Lebanon and Crawfordsville. Mr. Murdock said that one line was operated last year at a loss of sevsubmitted to Mr. Murdock that its assessment made at the first session was less Miami County et al. vs. William E. James T. Walker, of Evansville, representing the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Company, objected to the assesse ment of $437,000 placed against his company. He was accompanied by the treasurer of the company, who asserted that the assessment ought to be reduced to $200,000. In reply to a question put to him by a member of the tax board the treasurer of the company declared that in his opinion the lines, franchise, rights of way and everything else belonging to the company could be duplicated for less than $250,000. Wm. A. Ketcham, in appearing yesterday afternoon in behalf of the Manufacturers' Natural Gas Company, made his first appearance before the tax board since he left the office of attorney general.
